First of all, let's look at the financial results figures. We reported net sales of 34.118 billion, EBITDA of 2.750 billion, operating income of 1.628 billion, and ordinary income of 1.294 billion.

So far, sales have increased by 18.2% year-on-year. Operating income and ordinary income rose 68% and 150%, respectively, showing very large year-on-year growth.

Net income was negative 23 million yen, an increase of 700 million yen compared to the previous year. It's in the red, but, net income has increased significantly since last year.

We regret to report a loss of 23 million yen for this period. We plan to increase operating income significantly in Q4. As a result of that, we expect to clear our full-year forecasts.

As for the content, I would like to mention a significant area. Sales grew significantly due to improved apartment-building internet sales and mobile-business profits. Operating income jumped 68% in the fiscal year under review.

In terms of qualitative information and consolidated results, as I mentioned earlier, the increase in apartment-building internet contributed significantly to the increase in sales. The health-tech business has also grown to double the level of the previous year, and this has contributed significantly. To ALC Press Inc., which we acquired last year. From this quarter, ALC Press Inc. has been consolidated in PL, and the increase in those sales is also a very important factor.

In terms of quarter sales for this period, we have recorded record-high net sales for the second consecutive quarter. The results for this period are shown here.

Let's look at the segment situation. In the broadband business, the apartment-building-internet business is growing greatly and has become a big factor. However, sales of services for the original ISP business are declining. Nevertheless, apartment-building internet's sales have increased significantly, and we are now able to cover that, and more through its sales.

As I mentioned earlier, the health-tech business has more than doubled compared to the previous year, and its proportion has increased by 107.2%.

We acquired ALC Press Inc. And due to that, in this quarter, we launched a new business, an educational-tech business. I'll speak about this business in a moment. In the current consolidated fiscal year, sales and operating income have begun to contribute to the Group's performance, and, as a key new growth segment in the Group, it will likely develop into holding a significant position.

As announced today, Full Speed Group, which is our consolidated subsidiary, announced that its performance has been downwardly revised. However, the FreeBit Consolidated Group's performance forecasts are not affected due to the growth of other businesses, even with this revision at Full Speed. As a result, the Group's performance forecasts for the fiscal year under review are generally very favorable, and, at the same time, we are confident that the outlook for the current period is proceeding steadily.

第4四半期に向けた利益増要因

下記要因により計画通り通期営業利益27.5億達成を見込む

I mentioned that the current period's sales profit is progressing as planned. I think that the most important concern for shareholders and investors is whether we will really achieve this in the full fiscal year. I have collated this information on this sheet. The full-year operating income target for the current period is 2.75 billion yen. In Q3 financial results, we need to accumulate about 1.1 billion yen up, and we expect things to progress with no major concerns.

In terms of details, first, Giga Prize Co. Ltd. upwardly revised its earnings forecasts last month, and its earnings were very steady. Let's look at the revision of earnings forecasts for Giga Prize. In terms of absolute amounts, we have contributed significantly to the consolidated group, more than the revision, and we believe that this will make a significant contribution to our results in the current period.

In particular, with regard to Giga Prize, our business results have been growing through transactions with major developers and housing manufacturers. The major housing manufacturers and developers are planning to start and complete a large number of projects toward the end of this fiscal year, in March, and we believe that we will be able to successfully be part of those customers' business plans and achieve our results every year. Therefore, we believe that we will continue to make progress without problems in this period.

Let's look at the language-education producer called ALC, which has newly joined the Group. This business is based on seasonal factors, with profits skewed very heavily to the season of entering university and entering-companies, March and April. In our fiscal year, March and April are at the end, so this situation will significantly contribute to achieving performance in the current fiscal year.

Due to the very strong performance of other businesses as a whole and the new period starting in March, April, there is a year-end budget, and many customers want to start a new business in the new business fiscal year. Due to this, profits tend to concentrate in Q4. We believe that the accumulation of 1.1 billion yen in operating income in Q4 will continue without any problems. Therefore, I believe that shareholders and investors can relax and watch our business results without anxiety.

四半期実績推移

Sales are growing. The broadband business, mobile business, and advertising-technology business account for the largest share. There are two areas that are growing: the health-tech business and the newly added educational-tech business. These two areas are contributing significantly to the record-high net sales.

In terms of items when comparing net sales year-on-year, the growth in apartment-building internet, which I have been explaining, is the biggest in absolute terms. The newly added educational-tech business and health-tech business have more than doubled compared to the previous year, and that is the third biggest figure.

Advertising-technology business contributed significantly to sales growth every fiscal year, but in the current fiscal year there were factors that I mentioned later, and there were some areas where the growth rate was slightly lower. However, as this is also seeing a recovery trend, it is expected to contribute until the end of the current period into the next period.

The details for operating income are similar to sales described a moment ago. By contrast, mobile business's profitability has improved compared to the previous year, so there has not been sales growth. Improvements in management efficiencies in this business have contributed significantly to operating income.

In addition, health-tech and educational-tech business have been newly added, and their presence in the overall business results is growing very strongly.

The result of that is, looking at the graph of net sales, the bars in the graph have grown compared to the previous year. Operating income and absolute amounts also increased significantly from 900 million in the previous fiscal year to 1.6 billion in the current fiscal year.

Let's look at the trend in network-related expenses. As can be seen from the graph, in this business, mobile and fixed broadband have become more stable and costs are no longer increasing.

Next, let's look at the trend in selling, general, and administrative expenses. In the current period, ALC Press Inc. is included in consolidated subsidiaries, so those selling, general, and administrative expenses are included. This is the same as the explanation on net sales given a moment ago. Sales for ALC Press Inc. are also included, so from a structural point of view, of course, costs have also increased.

In terms of personnel as well, the personnel at ALC Press Inc. have increased our number of personnel, and, in total, the number of employees is approximately 1,200. In term of existing business other than ALC Press Inc., currently, we're past the phase of greatly increasing the number of personnel, and sales themselves will greatly increase in the future. Personnel expenses will likely level off in the future, because we have established a system from a short while back due to us no longer having to increase the number of personnel by very much.

Let's look at ordinary income. This goes without saying, but operating income has grown considerably, so ordinary income has also been added. The absolute amount of investment loss in affiliates using the equity method is still in the red. The loss decreased by 180 million yen compared to the previous year, which contributed to the increase in profit, and ordinary income was 1.290 billion yen in this period.

In 3Q, net income was more than 700 million in the red the previous year, and ordinary income for the current period has exceeded that figure. Therefore, in this segment, we have turned this around to be positive. However, taxes and other expenses have been incurred, the result of which is that we are slightly in the red. This will increase due to the accumulation of operating income in Q4, so we will not go into the red throughout the year, so please do not feel any anxiety with respect to this.

前年同期比 売上高29.0%増、セグメント損益18.5%減

マンションインターネットが順調に推移し増収、固定網の減少等により利益減

(単位：百万円)

First of all, let's look at the progress made in the broadband business. Sales increased by 29% on a year-on-year basis. As to the segment profit and loss, there was a decline of 18%. Gross profit rose as apartment-building internet sales increased, resulting in an additional 700 million yen.

On the other hand, sales of fixed broadband are now declining, and this is directly related to the decline in profits. Nevertheless, apartment-building internet sales have increased by 700 million yen, which covers the majority of that

Furthermore, as to Giga Prize, which is engaged in apartment-building internet, its business is expanding dramatically now. As a result of that, SG&A expenses have increased, due in part to systemic enhancements, compared to the previous year, and overall, there was a profit decrease. However, the trend of increasing apartment-building internet sales will continue, and SG&A expenses will not increase as much as sales. I would like you to understand that sales will grow significantly in the future and segment profits will trend upward.

In terms of new services, in January we announced a next-generation WAN service as part of our broadband business, and this service is aimed at major corporations. The graph shows that the number of apartment-building internet units offered by broadband business has increased, as I've said several times, not only in terms of sales but also in terms of the number of units sold. The number of households serviced exceeded 360,000 households, and the number of households serviced should exceed 400,000 units in the current period. As a result, the number of households serviced has reached the highest level in the industry.

Next, let's look at the advertising-technology business. There has been a 5% year-on-year increase in sales. Up until now, the growth rate was slightly higher, but in the current quarter, sales growth has somewhat stopped. We will restrict third party's cookie, iOS ITP, which we have seen since last year. Therefore, the Internet advertising industry as a whole has somewhat stopped growing, and there are some areas that are being affected by this, and, since last year, there have been a large ranking change for Google's search engine, and we are responding to this change. In the short term, there are some things that have led to a decline in the sales growth rate, and this quarter's sales have fallen compared to the previous quarter. In terms of the year-on-year basis, the increase was limited.

However, while changes in Google search rankings are constantly occurring, our response to these changes in our sales activities have advanced, and our business performance has greatly improved. In terms of segment profit/loss, there were some areas in which expenses, such as the launch of new businesses, were largely incurred in the current period. However, as these expenses have come to a halt, the situation is that they will become a positive factor for Q4 and in the next fiscal year.

As I mentioned at the beginning of this presentation, we have downwardly revised our Full Speed consolidated financial statements. Regarding the decline in net sales being less than that anticipated, due to the change in search engine ranking, which I mentioned a moment ago, and the impact of the iOS ITP, net sales were lower than the forecast. Operating income and net income were also affected by these developments, and the portion of upfront investments was carried out in line with our plans. As a result, we believe that these will lead to a revision to our forecasts.

However, as we have recently recovered, we are not concerned about the situation for the next period, and even though we have revised our forecasts downward, our absolute amount of profits has been extremely high within the Group, and we will continue to work hard to expand our advertising-technology business. That's a summary of the ad-tech business.

In terms of individual initiatives, FORIT, an affiliate provider company in the Group, has continued to expand into Asian markets. The size of the Asian internet advertising market is still different in size from that of Japan, the U.S., and China, so the scale of the markets is not large. However, the market is growing at a considerable rate, and we are entering the markets at an early stage of growth. In this way, we are working to increase our share of Asian platforms in affiliate business.

As for Full Speed alone, there is currently a shortage of human resources in Japanese companies across almost all industries. In particular, the feeling of labor shortages among medium-sized companies, which are clients of Full Speed, is even larger than that of large companies, so there are search-engine-optimization services for recruiting human resources. Google has started a new service called Google Job Search. There are SEO services and advertisements by the recruiter indeed. Optimization in the search engine will be necessary, so we are consulting about and selling that.

I've spoken so far about advertising-tech, and, next, I will talk about the cloud business. Legacy services are currently shrinking, and this has continued quietly for many years. There have been some fluctuations in periods depending on how profit and loss is handled. However, the business size itself is not very large, and the impact on the whole is negligible.

Nevertheless, new initiatives are emerging in the cloud business. Alpine is now called AlpsAlpine. We are currently working with AlpsAlpine to develop a digital key that utilizes block chain technology, and if we can convert it into a suitable commercial service in the future, it will become an extremely large business. This is a new initiative. That's a summary of the cloud business.

Next, let's look at the health-tech business. For FreeBit EPARK Health Care, which is a consolidated subsidiary, its business is growing extremely rapidly, and its net sales grew by 107% year-on-year.

In terms of income, the previous fiscal year was in the red, so, in the current period, in terms of FreeBit EPARK Health Care, we have almost returned things around to be in the black. There is also other health-tech business that is being brought about due to upfront investment, so, overall, segment profit/loss is still in the red stage, but business growth is likely to contribute to profits in the future.

新報告セグメント「エドテック事業」を開始

今年創立50周年を迎えるアルクは、個人をはじめ企業や教育機関、自治体、語学指導者等に向けて多彩なサービスを展開。グループシナジーにより、更なる事業規模の拡大を目指す

Next, let's look at the educational-tech business. This business segment will be led by ALC, which we acquired last year. As this year marks the 50th anniversary of ALC, it is a long-established content provider in language education in Japan. ALC itself is a company with various customers, such as individuals, educational institutions such as high schools or universities, companies that have English-language training, and local governments.

Its name recognition is extremely well established. The content itself has built up over a 50-year period, and ALC has its own method of educating. ALC is a highly reliable company. IT adoption has not progressed much in the industry, and we are determined to continue to launch new services in the future, such as services that will further increase the results of learners through IT technology in our group. The group intends to further leverage the content, methods, and credibility of ALC.

I'm talking about the near future and the next period onwards. In the current fiscal year, in March and April, sales and operating income will greatly increase for ALC Press Inc. The FreeBit Group will receive a significant contribution to earnings and sales in a timely manner for the consolidated fiscal year of the Group. In the educational-tech business, we will be able to, for the first time, start properly recording profits from the start of the project. In the future as well, we expect this business to be highly compatible with IT and grow.

I have so far spoken about this period. In the remaining period, in terms of areas in which we will focus our efforts, as is shown in the material and as I have just mentioned, apartment-building internet in the broadband business will grow more and more, so the key point for us is that we complete construction speedily so that our customers are satisfied.

In the mobile business, the industry has stabilized considerably compared to a while back, and we are working on various initiatives, including new Tone Mobile handsets, to generate profits.

As to the advertising-technology business, we have seen a number of Google issues recently. These issues are now being overcome, and we are at the stage of further improving our business results for the current and next fiscal years and beyond by strengthening our affiliate business development and reviewing the profitability of the business as a whole.

With regard to the cloud business, blockchain services with Alpine are the most recent topics of conversation, so we will tailor these services with an eye on the future.

In the health-tech business, the FreeBit EPARK Health Care is at a stage in which its business is growing very rapidly, so we are expanding the market share more and more.

As I mentioned earlier, we are preparing for significant growth in educational-tech business from the next fiscal year onwards, and we are now focusing on this area in the future.

The rate of progress is shown by the figures in the table. Dividing by one-quarter is not equal. However, we believe that the business structure is in place to significantly increase sales and profits in Q4, so we see that there is extremely steady progress. We ask shareholders and investors as well to be conscious of this trend.

Amid this favorable trend, our midterm management plan is progressing well, with the aim of being a company with consolidated net sales of 50 billion and consolidated operating income of 5 billion for the next fiscal year. As we are nearly on track to reach our goals in the fiscal year ending April 2019, we intend to continue working as one to reach our goals of 50 billion in net sales and 5 billion in operating income from the next fiscal year onwards.

And that concludes my explanation of the current fiscal year's results. I ask you for your continued support.
